DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on 17 August 2006 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of 10/801,699, 10/801,700, 10/801,835, 10/801,862, 10/801,863, 10/801,865, 10/801,866, 10/801,678 and 10/802,004 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 16 and 17 are objected to because of the following informalities: it is not clear how the video object data is reproduced. It is suggested that in claim 16, after "data area" last line, should be inserted --based on the reproduced control information -- and in claim 17, after record area, last line should be inserted -- to control the reproducing of the video object data --. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 14, directs to none functional information stored on a medium. (See MPEP 2001). The last two line of amended claim 14 "where in the recording / reproducing apparatus ... access the video object data " do not provide any function to the control information since the claims do not specify how the control information on the management area of the medium is readout or reproduced to control playing or reproducing the video object data from the data area of the medium . Further it is not clear how the video object data is accessed by the control information .

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 15 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 15 called for a method for record data on a medium . The steps of the method being recited at last three lines of the claim . However, it is not clear how the steps recording the video object data and control information can be performed with already recorded video objected data and control information . It is noted that the video object data and control information recited in the steps of recording at last three lines of the claims being referencing to already recorded video object data and control information on the medium (see lines 7-24). Further it is not clear how the video object data and control information are generated or formed so that the video object data and control information can be recorded on the medium by the recording steps

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 16 and 17 are allowed.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
